Dedication

We, the seniors of 1961, dedicate our annual to Mrs. Margaret Watson. For four and one-half years she has been not only the teacher of home economics, but also organizer of the local chapter of F.H.A., teacher of adult sewing classes, hard-working advisor for the Junior-Senior banquet, and director of style shows. In addition, Mrs. Watson has been a personal friend and counselor to the students.

SUPERINTENDENT - CLIFFORD McKEE

B.S. - Bachelor of Science
M.E.S. - Master of Educational Science

Mr. McKee was born at Birmingham, Iowa. He is a graduate of Parsons College and Drake University.

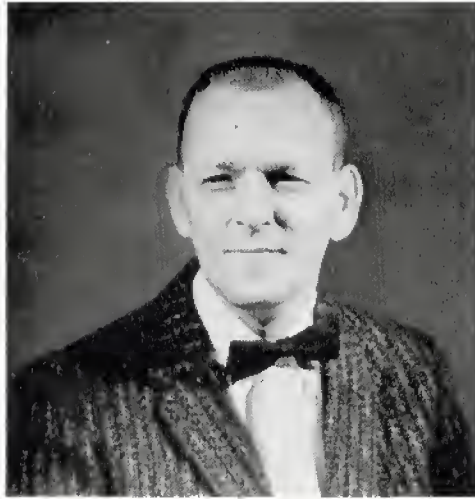

In his five years at New London, our superintendent, Mr. Clifford W. McKee, has his eye on the overall picture here as well as across the nation through his attendance at conventions and workshops of education. Keeping his popularity with the students while being responsible for enforcing school regulations and handling problems is no trick for Mr. McKee. His preparation of student handbooks aids to better coordinate classes, activities; and facilitates the management of school children. His view of various activities from his office and from his close connection with all special activities here at school is an optimistic one as each year brings an improvement in student responsibility and maturity.

Superintendent, Mr. McKee; Secretary, Mrs. Pollock

On the shoulders of the school board rests the future of our school. They determine policies, guide progress--and aid in administration. Their decisions shape the type of school we have and the quality of our education. Lights burn late at their meetings, and no matter what they decide it will not please everyone--and all this without a salary. These are brave men.

The New London School Board has long been indebted to the two men pictured below, Ed Smith and J.O. Bell. Mr. Bell has been on the board as treasurer for ten years and Mr. Smith has served thirty-nine years as secretary. A sincere thanks goes to both of these men for their tremendous effort in aiding the board.

In January of 1961, the New London Community School re-organized into their area, four tuition districts north of New London. As a result Wallace Riepe and Harold Lee were elected from 11 candidates to the present school board. Their terms are two and one years respectively. They will begin taking an active part in school legislation July 1, 1961. Undoubtedly these are qualified men to aid in the administration of the New London Community School.

Hot Lunch

Seated here are only a few of the 155 high school students and faculty members, who are served daily in our cafeteria between 11:50 and 12:30. They enjoy delightful meals prepared by the cooks in our modernized cafeteria-style lunchroom under supervision of Mrs. Fern Lee. The remaining three regular cooks are Mrs. Margaret Helmerson, Mrs. Belle McAvoy, Mrs. Laura Craig, and substitute Mrs. Mary Westerbeck.

Custodians

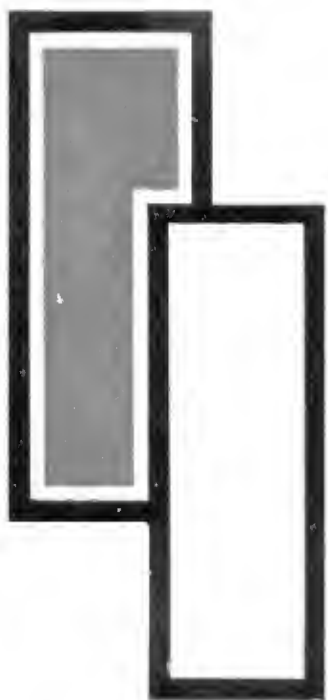

Through mud roads and snow drifts these valiant eight men plow through to take students to and from school.

Last Will and Testament

Of The Class Of 1961

We, the undersigned, underwritten, and underdogs, lately departed and deceased from this world, the party of the first part from the party of the second part, do hereby bequeath and bestow the following worldly goods upon whom it may concern:

I, Randy McKinnon, will to Ed Blythe my long legs, so that he may run track better.

I, Dorothy Peterson, will my well-worn books to Marilyn McCabe and Lois Kampmeier, whom I know will use them to the best of their intent.

I, Bruce Gipple, will my physique to John McKinnon, so that he may lure the girls even more.

I, Tom Fullerton, will my curly hair to Blaine McNeil, whose at the present time is too short for a permanent wave set.

I, Sharon Angstead, will my almost new tube of red lipstick to Diane Strawhacker, so it will clash with her hair.

I, Joan Gilliland, will my desire to succeed to Minnie McCabe.

I, Carol Prehm, will to Mary Lee Huddleston and Sharon Brown my late studying hours, both of whom keep them already.

I, Vicky Kramer, will my friendship with Tom Simpson, a highway patrolman, to Curt Nehring and Larry Miller, with the feeling in mind that some day soon they will need it, and badly too.

I, Don Lounsbury, will to Paula Bozarth my flat feet, to hop around better on.

I, Nancy Foggy, will my ability to knock down mail boxes while trying to drive, to Carrol Smith, in hopes she will be able to miss them.

I, Jerry Krieger, will my standard of being late to class to Marvin Hillard, who already is taking advantage of such a privilege.

I, Janet Grinstead, will my posture to Joan Flayharty and Mary Helmersen.

I, John Shores, will my daring driving to Keith Walz and Herb Phillips, who are both very apt at this art.

I, J Schroder, will to Dianne Redfern my plastic bridgework backed in gold.

I, Duane Swailes, will to Judy McNeeley my singing ability, in hopes that she will use it.

I, Sharon Jones, will my soft voice to Joyce Westerbeck.

I, Fred Messer, will some of my excess weight to Koral Schroder and Larry Waddle, both of whom could use it very easily.

I, Marilyn Thornburg, will to Dave Matheny my blue coat pin, which he insists on wearing on his letter jacket.

I, Ralph Johnson, will my ability to get along with the girls to Jeff McKinnon and Aaron Coe, both of whom can take this with a grain of salt.

I, Larry Kuhlenbeck, will my ability of getting the family car to Eldon Waddle. Now we are in the same boat together.

I, Jim Church, will my broken mute to Ed Marshall and Rodney Linkin, so that they will not have to break one also.

I, Lloyd Miller, will to Beverly Hobbs and Mary Joy my black hair, so that they will not have to dye theirs.

I, Rita DeSpain, will my small feet to Donna Linder and Darlene Baker, so that they may walk softly and carry a big stick.

I, Ilene Holmes, will to Virginia Dodds my shorthand books. Now she can write more notes to Blaine.

I, Sara Burkhart, will my short blonde hair to Marylu Davey.

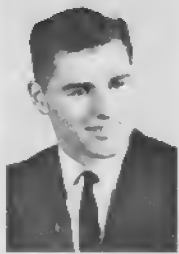

I, Bill Lyon, will my quiet disposition to Keith Hobart and Janie Konecki.

I, Stan Blythe, will my specs (glasses) to Donna Hunter, so that she may see her way better.

I hereby swear that to the best of my knowledge the above for-sworn statement by the party of the first part be true, and that the party of the first part is of sound mind and body and was not unduly influenced.

With Anticipated Knowledge From High School Science Classroom Activities. . .

In the picture above you see potential chemists working in a modern high school laboratory. They have an abiding curiosity, precise, up-to-date equipment, and are learning an extensive knowledge of chemistry. Some day a number of them could possibly earn a distinguished position in modern industry.

Shown above are the Sophomore Biology students on the left dissecting livestock eyeballs determining different parts of the eye. On the right this same class is studying the circulatory system tracing: arteries, arterioles, capillaries, veinules, and veins with the new human torso.

The Biology course at New London Community School is geared to serve the needs of two important groups of pupils -- those whose formal education will terminate before or upon the completion of high school work, and those who will continue their education through college.

Business Education Department. . .

Hieroglyphics? No, it's just some shorthand I dictation placed on the board for practice purposes. The future secretaries have come a long way under the qualified instruction of Miss Pearson.

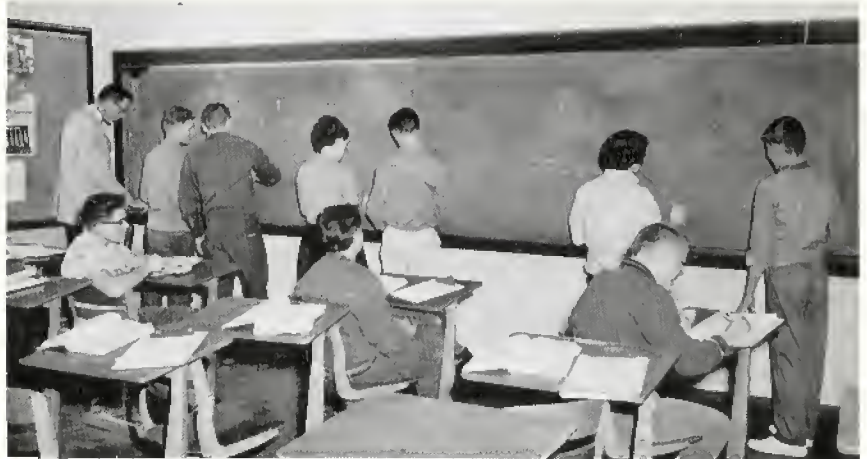

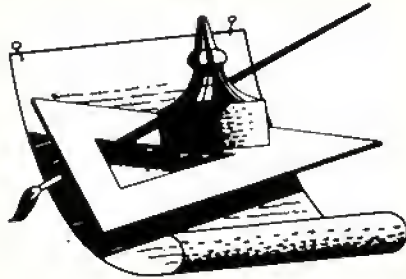

Here, Miss Pearson is showing the bookkeeping class how to keep the complicated bookkeeping sets in order and balanced. In class today--the office tomorrow . . .

This is one place in the school where mind and fingers work hand in hand--the typing I class. Typing requires great coordination and much natural ability, besides extensive practice.

High School Math Department. . .

HOMEMAKING III. The Wedding Workbook - Smart girls plan ahead for days to come. Here they are planning and discussing weddings -- Janet Grinstead is the pretend bride.

The entire third year course is geared to prepare the girl for a vocation, further school, or marriage.

Miscellaneous Class

Dept. Activities. . .

Shown here are students who enjoy the benefits of chemistry. Their means of transportation to school by auto or bus -- is connected with the chemical preparation of strong materials and excellent fuels. Their clothing was chemically bleached or dyed, perhaps made of synthetic fibers and the books under their arms are made of chemically treated paper, prepared inks, and glue.

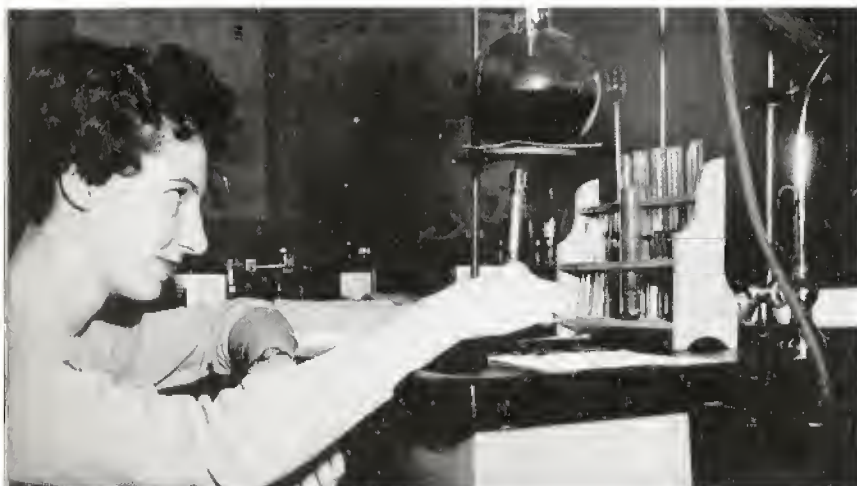

Here we see the first section of Junior English hard at work on a grammar assignment. Now Marvin, that isn't fair!

Season Record: Won 7, Lost 2

Conference Record: Won 5, Lost 2

All Conference: 1st Team: John McKinnon, 2nd Team: Ralph Johnson, Don Lounsbury, Tom Fullerton, Herb Phillips, Fred Messer and Marvin Quandt.

Ralph Johnson, Co-Captain, an all-state quarterback, was a determining factor in the success of our team until he was injured in the Columbus City game.

Tom Fullerton, Co-Captain, was the leading defensive lineman and stopped repeated threats by our foes to score on us.

These boys, however, were ably assisted by their fellow classmates: Don Lounsbury, End; Fred Messer and Jerry Krieger, Tackles; Jack Shores, Center; Randy McKinnon, Defensive End; and Larry Kuhlenbeck, Quarterback.

A tense moment on the field!

New London stops a foe from gaining yardage!

"This is the best girls' basketball team New London has had in the eight years the sport has been played. The record of 13 wins and 11 losses could have easily been 20 wins and 4 losses had we not played the best competition in this section of the state. Ten of the eleven losses came at the hands of Morning Sun, Donnellson, Argyle, and Harmony; all ranked in the top 10 teams of southeast Iowa. However, good basketball teams are made over a period of years by playing the best competition available and not by playing teams of lesser caliber. The fine improvement and play of this team during the last half of the season and in reaching the finals of the district tournament is living proof of this."

----Coach LeRoy Martin

"Tigerettes, fight!" yell Darlene Baker, Diane Strawhacker, Koral Schroder, and Barbara Shipley, varsity cheerleaders. The action shot is the New London - Harmony game, in the semi-final round of District Tournament play at Mt. Pleasant. (The Tigerettes won, by the way.)

Dramatics

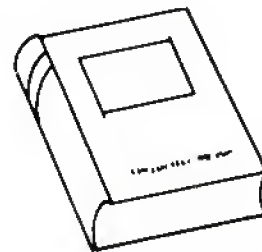

Twenty-seven students entered eight different divisions of speech and dramatics in the local speech contest, some in two fields. New London entered the limit in all three fields of declamation, with two in radio speaking, six in the one-act play, and one each in original oratory, interpretative reading of poetry, and interpretive reading of prose. Eleven of these, including the play cast made it to the State Contest. Those pictured above who entered the local contest are as follows: FIRST ROW: Cheryl Darbyshire, Mary Brown, Nancy Foggy, Virginia Dodds, Dixie Hahn, Carol Chadwick, Lois Kampmeier, SECOND ROW: Mr. Hall, Rita DeSpain, Sharon Lee, Marlys Lee, Linda Harper, Diane Strawhacker, Sharon Angstead, and Mrs. Chrissinger. FOURTH ROW: Helen Lyon, Donna Linder, Larry Schweitzer, Bill Hanks, Dean Crabill, Aaron Coe, and Dick Fullerton. The above underlined students advanced to State Speech Contest, at Grinnell, Iowa, and received II ratings except Duane Swailes, who received a I rating.

BURLINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. - Burlington

Do you recognize our school's librarians? This photograph illustrates the work done by our student librarians. They have worked this extracurricular activity into their regular academic schedule. Each study hall has at least one librarian stationed in the area where the books are housed. In this fashion student librarians aid other students in finding available reference material, checking in and out magazines and books. We feel that the students have done a fine job even though they carry a full schedule and the reference material in certain areas may not be complete.

"Oh; thank you"

Can you recognize the various characters in the sophomore plays, "Little Prison," "Call It A Day," and "Who's Feudin' Now," as well as some of the student directors and the entire cast of the contest play, "Fog on the Valley?"

Fresh-Soph One-Act Play Cast

The Junior Class play, Two Dates For Tonight, was well acted out and highly pleasing to both the audience and director. The play was a hilarious comedy picturing the dating problems of the typical, creative teenager.

"What's gastralgia?"

The Senior Class Play, "IT'S A GREAT LIFE," is centered around the "Peabody Plan," which was supposed to keep the Peabody family running smoothly. (It didn't.) The action shots picture the Seniors at rehearsal for this farce-comedy in 3 acts.

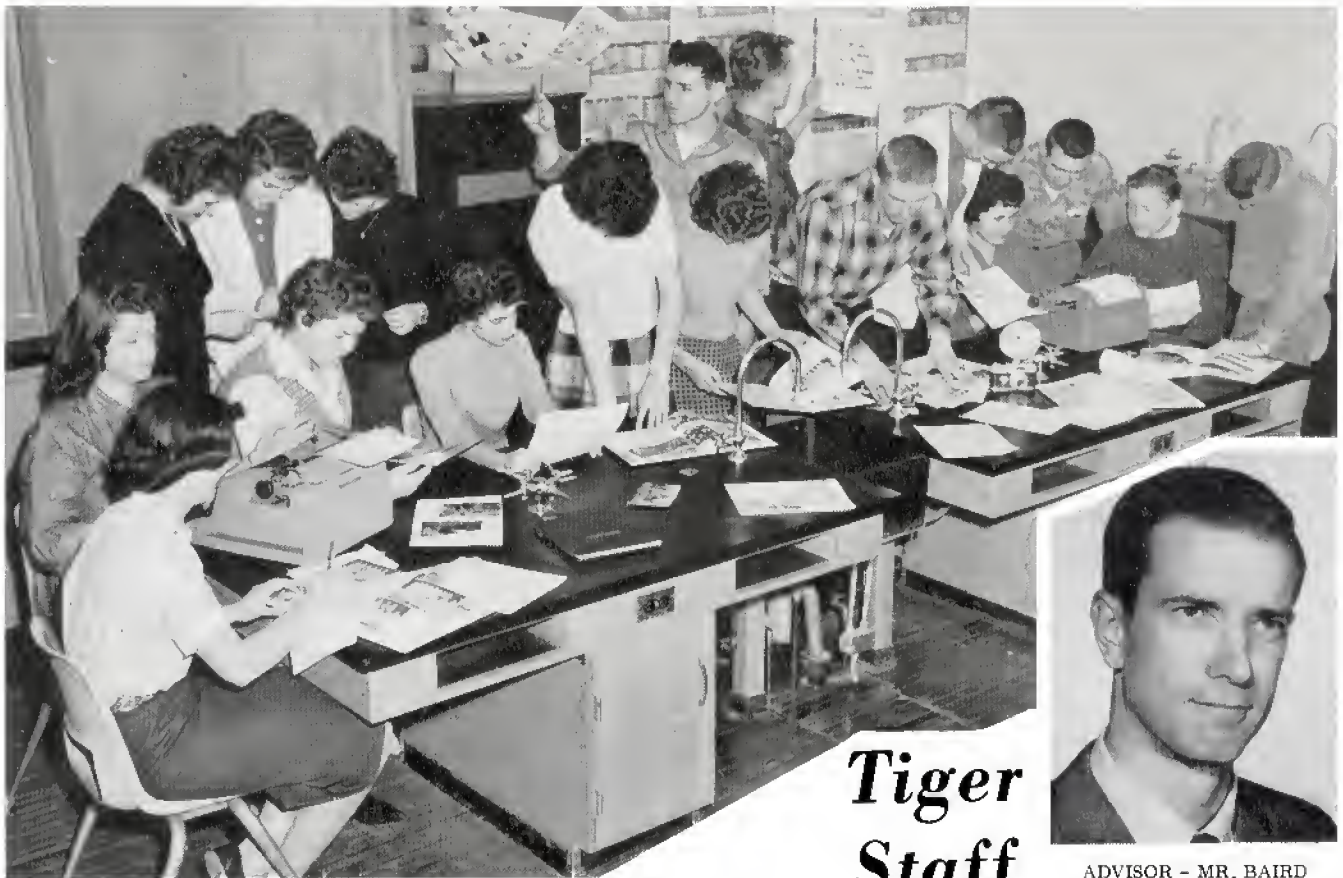

The cast was as follows: Jeannie Peabody, Sharon Angstead; Claude Fraley, Duane Swailes; Russell Peabody, Stanley Blythe; Annabelle, Rita DeSpain; Eloise, Carol Prehm; Grace Peabody, Nancy Foggy; Aurelia Audrey Wunkle, Janet Grinstead; Sophia Jane Wunkle, Marilyn Thornburg; Dr. Edward Appleby, John Shores; George Peabody, Jim Church; Larry Jordan, Ralph Johnson; Alice, Sara Burkhart; Miss Jacobs, Dorothy Peterson; Mr. Pooley, Bruce Gipple.

We Are Proud To Present The HIGH SCHOOL HONOR STUDENTS. . .

Shown above are the honor students of NLHS. To be able to appear in this picture, the student had to have a "B" or above average in three out of five six-week grading periods. Tiger Staff

ADVISOR - MR. BAIRD

The Annual Staff has worked hard to put out the best possible High School Yearbook. As a group, various members of the staff had taken part in its construction by selling ads, annual sales, copyists, and in photography. The general pattern of photo and body copy layout was formulated and directed by Dorothy Peterson, Art and Layout Editor. The Editor is Nancy Foggy; Assistant Editor is Donna Linder.

Informer Staff

The Informer Staff each week provides news items from individual departments, and special feature articles of interest to the public through the New London Journal. Miss Pearson, Advisor; Duane Swailes, Editor, and Stephanie Winebrenner, Assistant Editor, are backed by the above efficient staff who presents school news interestingly and accurately.
